Senior Class History

ON SEPTEMBER 7, 1928, seventy-four students entered Nappanee High School as the greenest bunch of Freshies ever enrolled.

After getting thoroughly settled in our new abode, we elected Stahly Weldy President, Alberta Weygand Vice President, Erdean Stahly Secretary-Treasurer, and Mrs. B. and Mr. Trabue, Advisors. At the same time we chose a class motto "Toil Conquers All Things," a flower, Yellow Rose and the class colors Blue and Gold. During our first year we had one party, which was held in the gym.

At the beginning of our Sophomore year only fifty-one of the original seventy-four reported for duty. This time we elected James Eaton President, Don Price Vice President, Alberta Weygand Secretary-Treasurer, and Miss Newby and Mr. Martin Advisors. On this year's social program were two parties. One a Hallowe'en party with the other three classes, was held in the gym. The other, during the second half, was a "hobo's party" at Dean's and Don's. Everyone had an exceptionally good time at this party, so good in fact, that in order to prolong it some of them walked home.

In our Junior year only forty-one of us came back but our diminished numbers only made the rest of us feel more determined to live up to our class motto. This year we elected Wayne Dunham President, Wanda Minard Vice President, Kathyrn Metzler Secretary, Fay Danner Treasurer, Miss Newby and Mr. Schuler Advisors.

During this year we had two parties, one at Blosser's Park, the other a Progressive Party with refreshments at different country homes.

As Juniors we gave a play entitled "The Patsy." This play, a great success, restored our dwindling resources to such an extent that we were able to put across a very presentable reception (in the form of a Circus) for the departing Seniors.

This year (1930) only thirty-eight members of our once mighty class came back. We elected Wayne Dunham President, Frances Gall Vice President, Erdean Stahly Secretary, Miss Newby, Mr. Goodrich, Sponsors, and Mr. Abell Advisor. On December 17, 1930, the Senior Class presented the Three-Act comedy "Peg O' My Heart." Although this play was not as well attended as the one given in our Junior year, everyone was well pleased with it.

This year we had—parties. One a theatre party. The other ? ? ? ? ?

And as Seniors we worked on the greatest project ever attempted by our class, the eighth volume of the Napanet. As every class before us, we insist that ours is the finest annual ever turned out. We hope you are not disappointed.

Class Prophecy

WITHOUT my crystal it would be a difficult task to carry out what has been assigned to me—that of prophesying the future of my fellow-Seniors. But here in the refracted lights of my crystal I see it all.

A figure swathed in yards of filmly stuff, being looked upon by a vast audience is none other than Alberta W. who has proven her stage career a big success.

What do I see in the blue background?? Two pretty little faces encircled by a ring—it must be serious!! About and near the brunette I see little children. She, Margaret M. will be a governess perhaps. And in the background surrounding the blonde are rows and rows of dining tables. I remember Kate M. said she plans on taking up dietetics.

Now—what have I here? A trace of broad smile. Of course—it is Edwin R. No wonder the smile, for I see now coming into view two feminine figures. Edwin must be a dancing instructor for he is swinging the girls rhythmically to the orchestra in turn, and appears to be giving them pointers now and then.

What do I see now that doesn't look as good—a police cop stops a car. Why—it is Stahly W. driving. He must be the 1940 speed record-breaker.

Here is something of a different nature—a book. Someone is turning over its leaves as if it pertained to chemistry. It is Fay Danner. Don't be surprised if she is responsible for the issuance of the 1940 Chemistry Text Book.

Again as I turn my crystal I see a green coloring. Now I know what it is—a hay meadow and two farmers in big straw hats—Henry B. and Robert R.

Here is an "Austin" and somebody getting out of it. You can be sure that it is Nap's live-wire—Wanda Minard. What do you suppose she is doing riding around in an Austin?

What is this? Rows of test tubes thistle tubes, labelled bottles and boys all alike. No wonder—it is Don and Dean P. Looks as if they are going into chemistry in a big way!

I thought so! Mary Pippen entering a store, above which hangs a sign—Drugs. Let us follow Mary into the store and satisfy our curiosity. A person behind the counter whom we can all guess is Wayne D. What is he doing? Nothing out of the ordinary—just fishing into his pocket. He hands a roll of bills to Mary who is now Mrs. Dunham.

Ah! this makes me dizzy—a typewriter keyboard—a silver cup—Russel Jones. Of all things!

Now don't get hungry. For I see pies, cakes, roast chicken, and lots of good things so tempting to we Seniors. But stay! They are being watched by Mary Malcolm. Looks as though she is going to be supervisor of a 4-H Club or some such thing. I must be right for I see Clara Ruff in charge of a sewing stall near by.

This is strange—the faint out-line of a boot. It must be Italy. But what is Eleanor Sechrist doing over there, trying to enchant some handsome Italian with an over-flowing melody of love??

Looks as if somebody has found trouble for himself, for I see Raymond Reed's long legs dangling in the air. Don't get a bad impression of him, for he is only making his way back to earth by means of a parachute. But he isn't the only one who floats about on high. Richard Blessing is up there too. Down below I see a dilapidated plane.

Here is something pretty—a stage all decorated. A tall figure is coming out to address us. Anna R. She must be the assistant manager of a theatre. She introduces to us the two star comedians, Elwyn B. and Charlotte Dick in "Wait a Minute, Nineteen Thirty."

Now I see someone in the barber's chair. He is being shorn by Dale Farrington. Of course there would have to be a barber out of our class.

Here must be a County Fair, for I see numerous stalls, and animals of different kinds about the grounds. Above one of the stalls is the sign "Mrs. Marjorie Mac Rae famous for her pies." That is none other than Marjorie Gingerich. Now as we wander about the grounds we come to the poultry section to learn that the Rummel sisters, Frances and Maxine have taken prize for their Leg-horns, "the white egg-layers."

We 1931 Seniors couldn't possibly do without a beauty specialist, says my crystal. For here I see Arabella H. carefully dressing Frances Gall's hair. Frances has quite a business air about her. Yes, and I can see dimly an office room, and above the door, "Frances Gall—Private Secretary.

This looks interesting. A bridge table in a grand resort hotel. The couples playing, appear to be members of the wealthier sex. But with all her riches, we recognize one of these players as Allegra Richmond.

Now my crystal takes on the aspect of a school room. Rows of desks, blackboards, little heads bobbing about. But more important is the instructor at her desk, who looks up now and then, to see Jack or Johnny pulling Suzzie's curls, or making hand-signs. This is Erdean Stahly's kindergarten class. In place of these little tots I now see older children, they look to be Sophomores. Their teacher is attempting to explain a geometrical figure to them. However, it is so poorly drawn on the board that I could not explain it myself if asked. Let us conclude that one of the boys of her class drew the figure. I am sure that would suit their teacher, Frieda Clouse.

Oh, how pretty! Here is a living room fit for a king and queen. I recognize the landscape gardening as that of Arlene Conrad. And none other than Marie Walters could have done the interior decorating, for my crystal reveals a cup won by her for that type of work.

Here is something of interest to the girls, and maybe some of the boys. It is a dress parade, or style show. All the pretty colors of the rainbow are draped gracefully on slim, lithe figures by one we all know Kathyln F. She will no doubt be a style expert.

Who is this coming? Little Miriam Miller in her white uniform. Before her scatter the subordinate nurses. I just saw one tall, gaunt figure disappear. But wait. Her head is reappearing around a corner—it is only I, Norma M. But to my misfortune Miriam sees me. But after all, it isn't so bad. She only puts me in charge of Roberta Hepler, Farm Bureau head, who has come to this particular hospital to have her tonsils removed.

Playing thus with my crystal is fun, but it is now clouding over and I can see no more.

—Norma Manuel.

Diploma Hour

THE graduating Class of 1931 numbers thirty-eight students. Of this number thirteen are boys and twenty-five are girls. This is the smallest class since 1926. This Class claims to make up for this shortage in numbers by their good looks and intelligence. Classes for the past seven years have numbers as follows: 1924—24; 1925—37; 1926—36; 1927—57; 1928—54; 1929—47; 1930—57.

March and December are not popular birthday months for no student claims windy March and only one graduate celebrates December. May, October and November are celebrated most frequent—there being six birthdays in each of these months. The rest of the birthdays are well scattered among the other seven months. No pupil has a birthday on an important holiday. There is one pair of twins and two other pupils whose birthdays ball on November 28. Twenty-one were born in 1913; eleven have been in school more than twelve years and six less than twelve years.

The average age of the girls is 18 years, 1 month and 5 days. The average age of the boys is 18 years and 5 days. The girls graduate 2 months and 12 days older than the girls of 1930. The boys graduate 1 month and 22 days younger than the boys of 1930. Both the oldest and youngest are girls. The youngest, Frieda Clouse, is 16 years, 4 months and 6 days old to-night. She is a sister of Vera Clouse the baby of the Class of 1930, and 3 months and 18 days younger than Vera was on her graduation day.

The Salutatory was given by Frances Gall; the Valedictory by Fay Danner.

—J. A. A.

Junior Class History

IN 1920 a number of small boys and girls were brought to school by their proud parents, and were enrolled in the first grade as the Class of '32. These small children gradually grew and every year they advanced one step nearer to the time when they would enter high school. Finally after eight long years of waiting the time arrived, the pupils received their report cards and on them was written these three wonderful words, "Promoted to Freshman." Ah! Many were the proud parents who read these words. At last their little child was in high school.

So in the fall of 1928 fifty-five pupils entered the doors of that wonderful institution of learning, "Nappanee High School." Of course these pupils were very timorous because those of us who had older brothers had heard rumors of what the terrible upper classmen would do to us.

These Freshmen realizing that they must have organization if they were to hold off this almost certain disaster, met and elected Mr. Roose, who had taken pity on us, and Miss Smith as our advisors. These two notables talked to us on the character and the standards of the pupils we should elect for our officers. So we elected Lowell Mullett to be our chief officer with Robert Miller as his assistant. Glen Field was made secretary-treasurer.

At a later class meeting we selected the red rose as our flower and red and white for our class colors. We decided to get two small penants rather than one large one, so the secretary sent and got two very pretty penants. Of course everybody needs a signboard for commencement so we had the local electrician fix us a nice signboard with the board of white and the electric bulbs of red.

Very few of our number failed to make the necessary grades in the final examination for the year, which only adds to our fame.

So we separated for the summer vacation. But to our surprise only fifty-two returned for our Sophomore year in high school. We came early on that beautiful fall day in 1929 because we planned on getting our revenge on the new Freshman. However, all of them seemed to have been warned because they all stayed in the assembly or close to some teacher.

This year we elected Charles Lehman, Wava Miner and Robert Miller as our officers and Mr. Byers and Miss Shively as our advisors.

The principle class party was held at Blosser's Park. Despite the many falls and collisions no one was killed, but several slightly injured.

We parted for the summer but all of us planned on coming back unless something happened. Then when school did start we found we had lost only five from our ranks. When we came back we were forty-seven strong.

We elected Charles Lehman, president; Robert Miller, vice president; and Glen Field, secretary-treasurer. This year Mr. Byers and Miss Rosenberry were our advisors. In November we held a theater party at South Bend. As Mr. Byers was not able to accompany us Mr. Goodrich went instead.

We selected, "Second Childhood," as our class play. The characters in this play were excellent and showed real talent. We wish to thank Miss Briggs and Miss Rosenberry for the help they have given us in this play.

We also realized that we must give the Seniors the best reception that has ever been given. I am not at liberty to tell you the program and menu, but it is excellent.

We are not only looking forward to the closing of this year, but we are going still farther into our Senior year. We are planning on putting forth the best volume of the Napanet in '32 that will ever be published.

Our class also is proud of the showing its boys have made in athletics. We have been represented in basketball ever since we have been in high school. In the eighth grade we had one of the best teams in high school; also in the summer of 1929 Coach John Longfellow picked five of our number to play summer baseball with the high school baseball team.

Since we have been in high school we have never failed to be represented on any team that the high school has put forth. As Freshmen Charles Lehman and Joe Lape represented us on the second team. On the baseball team was Charles Lehman, Joe Lape and Glen Field. As Sophomores, Lowell Mullett and Charles Lehman were on the first team and Joe Lape, Lee Anderson, Earl Graham, Bob Blosser and Nelson Eaton on the second team. Charles Lehman was on the tennis team.

The girls as well as boys have had good teams. They have been especially strong in the band, glee club and other organizations. —G. F.

Freckles and His Friends

IN THE year of 1892 when Merril Blosser was born, the city of Nappanee little realized that he was one who would help put the prosperous little town on the map.

In Merril's early days he developed a fondness for drawing and his parents encouraged him to take lessons. The first public exhibition of his talents were caricatures of the school faculty.

Mr. Joe Chappel, Editor of the National Magazine of Boston, had a contest for boys and girls under the age of fifteen in which they were to write on the subject: "How to Invest Five Hundred Dollars and Why." There were two thousand and five hundred contestants and Merril was a first prize winner which gave him a trip to Washington, D. C. There he witnessed Theodore Roosevelt's first inauguration. While in the presence of Teddy Roosevelt, Merril took a pad of paper from the President's desk, and made a sketch of the famous man which brought forth from him the comment, "Bully." The President was so pleased with the sketch that he detained him for some time chatting with him and encouraging him to keep on with his drawing. This was the experience that convinced him that he should be an artist.

After some experience in drawing for several papers, it was discovered that he liked to sketch "kids." This resulted in birth of "Freckles and His Friends." It is universally believed by many children that Freckles is Blosser's own son, but the original Freckles is Merril himself at the age of four. As we look over Freckles' costume we see the coat that was made from his grandfather's shrinking flannel shirt, lavender in color. The trousers are Dr. Charles Ink's cast off one's, dark gray with a maroon stripe. All he has new is his waist and neck-tie.

In the comic strip we are convinced that Freckles' roving spirit is due to his good fortune in winning the trip to Washington. Freckles has traveled from coast to coast. He has slept in the old Waldorf Hotel of New York City and in the hotel of San Francisco where President Harding died. He cruised to Catalina in the boat with the glass bottom and toured through Arizona and New Mexico to see the Pueblo cities where the ancient Indians lived.

Some time ago the school children of Indianapolis voted on the characters in all comic strips and Freckles won. Another instance, all the dailies in the United States voted on which Kid Strip is cleanest and again "Freckles and His Friends" scored the hightest.

Merrill now lives in Los Angeles, paying an occasional visit to his parents in this city.

Sophomore Class History

THE Class of "33", entered the seventh grade on September 7th, 1927, with an enrollment of forty-eight. We soon learned how to behave ourselves in the building that was new and amazing to us. At a meeting Carolyn Mullett was chosen as president for that year.

On September 4th, 1928, we entered the eighth grade with the same number of members as the year before. That year we elected Wilfred Troup as president. We had a very good basketball team and played quite a few games. A very successful Hallowe'en party was held, with the seventh grade attending as guests.

The next year we entered Nappane High School, known and treated as green Freshmen. Many boys and girls from the country joined our ranks, swelling the enrollment to sixty-six.

We elected the following class officers: Wilfred Troup, president; Howard Strycker, vice president; Jane Kurtz, secretary; Carolyn Mullett, treasurer. Purple and gold were chosen for our class colors and the yellow rose for our class flower. Miss Heestand and Mr. Martin were selected as class advisors.

Our advisors had a chance to use their ability, for the class held a skating party at Stuckman's Hall. There were only thirty-five present, but a good time seemed to be had by all. Three teachers were in attendance, Mr. White, Miss Heestand, and Miss Plasterer.

This year we returned to get revenge on this year's Freshmen for the treatment we had received.

As Sophomores we chose the following officers: Karl Freese, president; Carolyn Mullett, vice president; Karl Knble, secretary; Wilfred Troup, treasurer, Mr. Schuler was chosen to take the place of Mr. Martin in helping Miss Heestand to guide the class.

Our class is represented in the Student Council by Glenwyn Walters and Marjorie Anglemeyer.

We are quite proud of our boys who play basketball, and with two years ahead of them they are sure to be of great service to N. H. S.

This year we held a cootie party. There were many members in attendance, and the party was enjoyed by all.

And so we have passed another year trying to set a good example for our underclassmen. With the exception of sleepy Mondays and chewing gum we consider ourselves successful.

Senior Class Poem

REMEMBER ! ! !

Remember!

We're not bowed yet by weight or strife.
We can't expect to glide through life.
We dare not look behind or down,
Or wish for space to turn around.
Instead—
With eagerness of youth in all our faces
We try to fill our destined places,
And with all thoughts of fun in distance hurled
We'll climb life's hill into the world.

Remember!

Some of us will fall no doubt,
But others will the hardships flout
And, not even through the trials fear,
But climb until they find what's there
Behind the rugged hilltop crest,
And know that they have done their best
To raise their standard, and Honor gain
No matter how hard the game.

We will not look ahead too far,
Or hitch our wagons to a star.
We'll come down to earth, yet keep a goal,
And Remember!
What we learned at school.
We'll read life's signs that point the way
And profit ever by what they say.
Little things our life may hinder
But our motto we must Remember!

It's this:
To profit by what our efforts bring
For "toil will conquer everything."
Remember!

Freshman Class History

WE started out on the voyage of our higher education on September 8, 1930, in the boat called "Greenies." We waved good-bye to our mothers on the shore and toddled inquisitively around the decks and rooms until we finally were told which ones were to be ours.

As things began to get straightened out and run smoothly we were informed by Mr. Roose and Miss Plasterer, our pilots, that we should have some officers. The crew chosen were Russel Gonser, president; Wendell Frederick, vice president; Willodene Walters, secretary-treasurer; and Genevieve Yarian, member of the Student Council. The rest of the class were jolly sailors. We chose our colors, green and white (quite appropriate for "freshies") and our flwer, the white rose. We have two "pups" in our class of whom we are quite proud, especially since one of them received a letter.

Soon after our voyage began we had a rollicking party, when we cleared the deck at the skating rink. Every sailor enjoyed himself immensely.

During our Freshman year we have had a quiet sea and are hoping and looking forward to smooth sailing for our bark during the remaining three years of our voyage. However, if hardships and storms do arise the good ship "Greenies" will overcome them and the sailors will sing a jolly sailor's tune to keep happy.

Student Council

R. V. Goodrich, Advisor, Donald Price, Alberta Weygand, Norma Manuel, Edwin Roberts, Dorothy Coppes, Leland Strang, Lowell Mullett, Glenwyn Walters, Genevieve Yarian, Marjorie Angelmeyer.

As the Student Council of 1931 was organized Lowell Mullett was elected president.

The Student Council is one of the student organizations of many high schools and are always on the job. Our aim is to promote the interests of the students in governing themselves. This is the aim of the Student Council in our High School. The four classes of the Senior High School are represented in this council so that when any serious difficulty arises it may be settled fairly by the students because they know that their class has been represented.

This does not mean that the whole school will finally be entirely under the control of the students but that they, with the choice and guidance of the teachers, will aid in school government.

With the aid of Mr. Goodrich the Student Council has done a great deal in preparing programs which we thought would be interesting to the high school. We have tried to do our duty this year and we hope that what we have strived to do has been a success and has been appreciated by the high school students and also the faculty.

Among the activities this year a radio was purchased for the high school. We got the money for this by putting on a show and a basketball game. Another thing we did was making a definite program for girls athletics, which enabled them to receive a NHS monogram. We made out a schedule of the different things in which they could take part, and then divided them into different groups with a captain over each group. The team that won received eight points and the other team received five points so that each girl had the same chance. After a total of one hundred points has been received each Senior girl will receive her monogram, the girls from other classes must have one hundred and fifty points. The difference in the number of points is due the fact that this is the first year for girls athletics.

Librarians

The student Librarian Organization was established and sponsored by Mr. Abell in 1929. At that time it was considered a temporary arrangement—to be continued only if successful. A fair degree of success was attained in that year and in 1930 it was reorganized under sponsorship of Miss Newby and Miss Heestand who have had special training in Library Science.

The greater part of last year was spent in preparing to install the card system which we now have. Before this time the books had been checked by pencil in note books, but this system was inefficient and unsatisfactory. We now have the same system of checking and fines as the Public Library.

The Library was recently checked and the shelf list brought up-to-date and it was found that the library contains a few over 1,600 books. In addition to this the school subscribes for 26 magazines and receives several college papers.

The organization itself is composed of from 12 to 15 students who give one study period a day to library work. Their duties are to see that books are properly checked, to read stocks and keep books in order, and to assist students in finding reference books. They also make Library Standards and decide and collect fines.

During the period of preparation for the card system a number of seventh and eighth grade and Freshmen students were called into service, partly to aid librarians, but primarily to train them in library work so that they may be more efficient librarians.

Along with their other work the librarians have earnestly tried to educate the student body in the correct usage of books and magazines, but there is still much to be accomplished.

The Seniors who are leaving the organization this year wish the under classmen the greatest possible degree of success in the ensuing years.

The Staff

For the great task of publishing the '31 Napanet, Alberta was chosen the editor-in-chief. She has shouldered the responsibility very capably and much of the annuals success is due to her tireless and cheerful working. Edwin very ably assisted her and, in fact, has become her right hand man.

Wayne and Stahly took care of the business connected with it. The boys have worked long and hard to make the annual successful financially.

The advertising and circulation was assigned to Mary, who took care of that part in a very capable way.

To write up the basketball games, track meets, baseball games, tennis, and the various other athletics Donald has spent a great deal of time and work.

Miriam and Erdean have furnished the funny contents (those that are intentionally funny.)

Wanda and Raymond, with their artistic ability, made drawings for the title pages.

For all the various poses, positions, people, freaks, and jokes exposed on the snapshot pages, Kathryn and Wanda clicked the camera.

Freida and Frances, working together contributed a record of the entire school year, reminding the students of the important, or unimportant, things that happened on the school days of '30 and '31.

To finish up the annual there were added society notes of the social events, and literature composed by some of the high school students. Fay and Marie took care of that department.

Robert was the silent member of the staff. His duty was to learn the secrets of publishing an annual. Next year he will show the public what watching this year's staff taught him.

Mr. Goodrich and Miss Newby worked faithfully with the staff to complete a successful yearbook. The staff greatly appreciated the help and guidance of their two sponsors.

Girl Reserves

THE GIRL RESERVE organization has been well likened to a ship. Our sponsor is the Captain, the president First Mate, the rest of the officers are the Crew, while the members are the Passengers.

In 1925 the Y. W. C. A. of Elkhart, Indiana persuaded the Nappanee girls to go on a cruise of their own. Miss Hazel Dickey, as first Captain, made a successful voyage of the first year and through her efforts and with the increased interest of the Elkhart organization in our work, we have been cruising the sea of activity since that eventful September in 1925.

Our fleet has traveled in a triangular formation. At each point of the triangle the main ships travel (1) Body, (2) Mind, (3) Spirit and only by keeping the fleet together, can we hope to attain success, for one ship strayed or sunken will mean a break in the triangle, thus breaking the spirit and making it utterly impossible for the organization to realize its purpose.

Every year we dock long enough to refuel our courage—elect new crews, and a captain, take on new passengers and then again we resume our journey. Often we take a guest on board or bring an entertainer into our group for the interest and entertainment of the girls, and at times we have parties on board to relieve the monotony of the voyage.

Until this year, only girls of the sophomore, junior, and senior classes were initiated into the club but we found that many of the freshmen girls would like to join the Senior Club rather than the Junior Girl Reserves. Knowing this, we felt that allowing them to join the Senior Girl Reserves would benefit both organizations. The favorable response we have received from these girls has proved this belief.

The annual social program usually consists of Initiation, Recognition, and Installation ceremonies; Annual Hi-Y and Girl Reserve exchange of entertainment; mothers and dads banquet; an Elkhart, Nappanee G. R. party and Senior Farewell. Besides this the girls find an outlet to their interests by taking part in school programs before the student assembly and before the club itself. Our work in charity and community problems as well as the promotion of better citizenship and Christian work both at home and abroad, introduces us to a wide scope of educational subjects.

Our success to any extent is due to the cooperation of the members of the club, its sponsors, advisors and to the members of the faculty and of our community who make it possible for us to carry on the club work. —W. G. M.

Hi-Y Club

MEMBERSHIP

ON the thirteenth of October, thirteen new members were taken into the Club, making a total membership of twenty-nine. A very effective initiation was given to the new members, who were blindfolded and taken for a ride to a graveyard. The second degree of the initiation was administered on the fifteenth of October, in the First Brethren Church.

FATHER AND SON BANQUET

A special feature of the Club this year was its Father and Son Banquet. With the aid of Miss Heestand and Mrs. White the Club succeeded in putting on its own banquet and entertaining the fathers.

HI-Y AND G. R. PARTIES

In the first semester of the year the Girl Reserves gave the Hi-Y a theater party at the Fairy Theater of Nappanee. The Hi-Y, in return, gave the Girl Reserves a party in the second semester.

HI-Y AWARDS

Last spring the Club awarded a basketball trophy to Ira Phillips for being outstanding in sportsmanship during the year. This year a basketball trophy is to be awarded, and also a jeweled Hi-Y pin to the member of the Club who is outstanding in scholarship during his high school course. The Club this year donated fifteen dollars for the teaching of religious education in the public schools.

Junior Girl Reserves

The Junior Girl Reserves of the Nappane High School were organized in 1927.

In 1931 we have a group of twenty girls under the supervision of Miss Heckaman and Miss Shively.

An installation service was held in January and the following officers were installed:—

Catherine Coppes, President; Erma Johnson, Vice-President; Helen Tyler, Secretary; Lorene Hochstetler, Treasurer.

There were ten girls who joined the Girl Reserves in January. We hope to have a bigger organization next year than we have now.

The formal initiation was held in January. The arm band of the Girl Reserves is a white back-ground with large blue letters and a blue triangle around it. The girls made part of these themselves.

The Junior Girl Reserves are a small division of the Y. W. C. A.

On Washington's birthday we had a Washington program and anecdotes from Washington's life were given. At our last meeting in March a spring program was given. We discussed the birds and flowers of spring which was very interesting.

Slogan

Purpose

HISTORY OF THE N. H. S. COMMERCIAL CLUB

The N. H. S. Commercial Club was organized in the year of 1929, with Miss Plasterer acting as our advisor.

The object of the association is to cultivate higher interest in commercial enterprises.

The membership is composed of those who take commercial work.

This year the club decided to meet during the activity period the first and third Wednesdays of each month.

The club chose the following officers for the first semester, President, Miriam Miller; Vice President, Fredrick Ganger; Secretary-Treasurer, Vivian Epply.

No social meetings were held during the first semester.

Officers for the second semester were chosen as follows: President, Frances Gall; Vice President, Edwin Roberts; Secretary-Treasurer, Lois Mitchell.

The officers of the first semester gave a play before the assembly in January. The name of the play was "Not to the Swift."

Besides our general programs one banquet was held in the High School Building on March 27, 1931, about forty were present. The following program was given: Singing by all; Music by Robert Widmoyer; Several Songs by Eleanor Sechrist; Welcome by Frances Gall; What We are Doing by Allegra Richmond; Business Talk by Claude Coppes; How I Got My Job by Ruth Stahly, a former Commercial Club member; and a reading, "Little Shorthand Annie," by Margaret McFall.

This year's club still leaves a goal to be reached by the Commercial Club next year, this goal is "To get all Students interested in Commercial Work."

Latin Club

The "Societas Classica" was organized in 1928 to promote a fuller appreciation of the classical language. Any one continuing the study after completing one year is eligible to the club.

Meetings, with alternating consuls presiding every other meeting, were held monthly. Two consuls, two praetors, two quaestors, four aediles, two vigiles, and two trivunes constitute the staff of officers. Offices can not be held successively.

Virginia Coppes, Maxwell Clouse, Wilma Stose, Carlin Felter, Jean Miller, Vera Clouse, Wayne Fletcher, Kathryn Metzler, Fay Danner, Clara Felter, and Lowell Hershberger have held the consulship.

The club has created an interest for Latin songs, playlets, games, and mythology stories through its programs.

A Roman banquet, and two open meetings, which Latin students from various neighboring towns have attended, were some of the main events in the history of the club.

The club sponsored five members in the county Latin contest. In section 1, Wendell Frederick won first place in the contest at Elkhart. He took 2nd place in the District contest, at Bourbon scoring 149 points out of a possible 153. Wendell is to be congratulated upon his success. The school and club hope that he may even be better next year.

It has been quite successful in every way during its short existence due to the capability of the advisor, Miss Newby.

Future Farmers

The Nappanee chapter of Future Farmers was reorganized soon after school started last fall.

The Future Farmers of America is an organization of vocational agriculture students throughout the United States. They are governed by student officers and are advised by the local vocational agriculture instructors.

The purpose of the organization is to train boys in agriculture, and as leaders in community, state, and national affairs.

On October 17, three boys and their instructor, Mr. Byers, went to Purdue to attend the State Future Farmer congress. At this meeting Harold Umbaugh was awarded the Hoosier Farmer Key.

Later in October, the old members met at the home of Harold Umbaugh and set the stage, before the new members arrived, for the rough free hand initiation. The serious ceremony was carried out in a very effective manner.

On February 2, the Nappanee chapter of Future Farmers held a Father and Son meeting. The program was educational as well as entertaining. After the business meeting was finished, two reels of agriculture pictures were shown. Then the boys and their dads went into the gym where they enjoyed a game of basketball.

The Future Farmers co-operated with Purdue University and the local Kiwanis Club in staging the First Annual Muck Crop Show—Nov. 13-14. The success of this show far exceeded the hopes of those in charge.

On April 7 the Nappanee chapter sponsored the 2nd Annual Rally of Future Farmers of seven counties. The rally was held in the basement of the Methodist church. While the guests were eating, they were entertained by "Dewberries Dewdrops." After the supper the following program was given: Stunts by visiting chapters; Talk, "Corporation Versus Co-operative Farming", Congressman Pettengill.

On a lovely evening about ten days after the first day of November thirty-six youngsters of the Freshman Class held a skating party in Stuckman's Hall from seven to nine-thirty o'clock.

Miss Newby, Miss Heckaman, Mr. Roose and Mr. Goodrich went with them to take care of them. Aside from a FEW falls and some bad bruises, everyone thoroughly enjoyed himself. (Miss Heckaman fell harder than any one else.) The evening's fun was ended by everyone wishing for another big event.

MOTHERS' AND FATHERS' BANQUET

In honor of Saint Patrick's Day, the Girl Reserves invited their Mothers and Dads to a supper in the basement of the First Brethren Church. After the supper a program in memory of the Irish Saint was given, consisting of the following: Welcome by Wanda Minard, G. R. President; Response for Mothers, Mrs. Harry Richmond; Response for Dads, Mr. Ralph Metzler; Solo, Eleanor Sechrist; History of Saint Patrick's Day, Allegra Richmond; Irish Jokes, Margaret McFall. About sixty were present. It is events like this that make our mothers and fathers young again.

SOPHOMORE PARTY

Not to be out done by her sister classes the Sophomore class planned and carried out a party at the American Legion Hall.

After a potluck supper, ice cream and cake were served to those present, including Miss Heestand and Mr. Schuler.

The Sophs played bunco, cootie, and various other games until they resolved that it was time to go home and go to bed.

G. R. AND HI-Y PARTY AT ELKHART

The Elkhart Girl Reserves invited the Elkhart Hi-Y boys, the Nappanee G. R. and Hi-Y girls and boys, and the Jamestown Girl Reserves to a banquet on the evening of April 9. Twenty fun-seekers from Nappanee and two from Jamestown attended the supper and program that followed.

Everyone took part in the club singing; then there was a "Welcome Address" by the Elkhart G. R. President; "Thanks to G. R." by Elkhart Hi-Y president; a talk on "My Old Kentucky Home," by Reverend Gibbons of Warsaw. The rest of the evening was devoted to dancing.

SENIOR CLASS PARTY

Urged by the "society bug," thirty-five members of the Senior Class and Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Goodrich, Prof. and Mrs. Abell, and Miss Margaret Newby partook of a pot-luck supper, on Tuesday evening, October 27, at the home of Alberta Weygand. After the supper ice cream and cake were served. The big event then followed—teachers and all went to the Fairy Theater where "Love in the Rough" was being shown. Before the beginning of the show, the members of the party entertained the other folks at the theater with some songs. After the show, some went to the indoor golf course, some went home, and some went other places.

G. R. AND HI-Y PARTY

Spurred on by good-heartedness, the Girl Reserves entertained the Hi-Y boys at a theater party at the Fairy Theater. Although this was a turned around situation, the girls entertained the young gentlemen very nicely, and they in turn were very appreciative. "Bachelor Father" was the picture shown.

Following the examples of their elders, the members of the Junior Class held a theater party at the Colfax Theater in South Bend on Friday evening, November 7. R. B. Goodrich and Miss Rosenberry sponsored the party.

G. R. CONFERENCE

On Friday evening, September 19, the members and sponsors of the G. R. Club Cabinet went to the YWCA Camp at Birch Lake, Michigan, for the setting up conference, at the invitation of the Elkhart G. R. Plans were made and the meetings outlined for the coming year. On Saturday afternoon, the sponsors of Nappanee's Club came home, leaving the girls under their own care. Swimming was indulged in by practically every one. Camp-fire singing following weiner roasts, and stunts in the lodge were attractive features. Late in the afternoon on Saturday the girls hiked around the lake, approximately five miles, over ditches and fences, through burs and swamps, along the lake shore and over hills. The cook had a difficult time to prepare enough supper for the hungry girls. The girls returned on the following Sunday.

FATHER AND SON BANQUET

On Monday evening, November 24, the Hi-Y Club held its annual father and son banquet in the high school building, with about sixty fathers and sons in attendance. The President of the Club, Stahly Weldy, opened the meeting and after singing a few songs the dinner was served. After dinner Harold Miller gave a few selections on his guitar. Then Reverend Claude Garrison of Milford gave a talk on "The Relationship of Father and Son." He brought out in three words, Light, Heat, and Power, the relationship between them. He gave his talk in such a way that it held the listener's attention and was thoroughly enjoyed by all.

After this Robert Widmoyer played a few selections on the marimbaphone and then everybody went into the gymnasium to play games.

COMMERCIAL CLUB BANQUET

On Friday evening, March 27, thirty Commercial Club Members and ten guests enjoyed a banquet, served in the lower hall of the school building. After the banquet dinner the following program was given. Welcome by Frances Gall, C. C. President, Farewell Address from Seniors by Allegra Richmond; Talk, "The Business World" by Claude Coppes; Reading, "Little Shorthand Annie" by Margaret McFall; Talk by former C. C. member, Ruth Stahly; typing contest, Wava Miner, LaVerne Miller, and Mary Malcolm.

Between numbers Robert Widmoyer entertained the group with selections upon his marimbaphone. Pep singing was led by Eleanor Sechrist. The group adjourned after singing, "Run Along Home and Jump Into Bed."

JUNIOR-SENIOR RECEPTION

The last big social event of the school year was the banquet which the Juniors gave in honor of the Seniors on Friday evening, May 22 at the Coppes Hotel.

OPEN LATIN CLUB MEETING

The open meeting of the Latin Club was held in the High School Assembly on Wednesday evening, November 19, with one hundred and seventy-five present. Latin Classes of Bremen, Goshen, Madison Center and LaPaz participated in the program.

The meeting was opened with a "Welcome" by Fay Danner; Latin songs, sung by the entire group, were led by Miss Thelma Abell, instructor of Latin at Madison Center, and were followed by a Vergil song, led by the Goshen Class. Woodrow Hawkins of Madison Center gave an interesting reading entitled "Spartacus's Speech to the Gladiators." A report on the life of Vergil was given by Isobel Draper of Bremen. This was followed by more Vergil songs, sung by LaPaz. Margaret Weston, also from Bremen, told the story of Aeneid. A playlet the "Golden Apple" was given by Nappanee and Goshen. The LaPaz Chorus next sang two songs in Latin. The program was concluded by a playlet called "Vergil Fantasy" by Bremen.

"PEG O' MY HEART"

Margaret O'Connell, a young Irish girl, arrives in England from her home in New York. She is to live with her aunt, Mrs. Chichester, a month during which time she is to study. If at the end of the month she proves herself worthy of the best traditions of her mother's family she will receive a large fortune according to the dying wishes of her mother's and Mrs. Chichester's brother. Peg is not to know the conditions of her Uncle's will.

The English home is stiff and formal and the treatment she receives at the hands of her aunt, Mrs. Chichester, and hateful jabs of her cousin, Ethel, together with the pestering of Ethel's pampered brother Alaric, makes Peg long for her common but comfortable home in America and the love of her father.

The only friend she finds in England is the handsome, wealthy and young nobleman Sir Gerald Adair.

Peg proves her worth to her haughty cousin by shielding Ethel after she has found her eloping with a married friend of the family. In this way she saves the family from disgrace.

Peg learns the conditions of the will but loses her faith in men because her lawyer Mr. Hawks and her cousin, Alaric propose to her and she thinks it is because of her fortune.

She determines to return to American but on learning that her aunt is being paid a certain sum of money for keeping her, and that this money is their only source of income since the bank has failed, she decides to stay.

The comforting news, that the bank is soon to reopen its doors, is received. Peg decides to remain in England when the man of her choice Sir Gerald Adair (Jerry) asks her to share his title. —W. M. '31.

"SECOND CHILDHOOD"

Professor Frederick Relyea, a small town physician recently turned scientist, thinks he has discovered the "Elixir of Youth", which, he claims, will return to old age former youthfulness. To the astonishment of Mrs. Wellsmiller and Sylvia, her sweetheart, Philip Stanton, steals the neighboring Mrs. Vivvert's dog for the purpose of experimenting. Sylvia exchanges the dog for one of its pups and her father, thinking the dog has turned to a puppy, is elated over the results of his youth-bringing liquid.

The loan on the Relyea house is due; the professor has no money to pay it. In sheer desperation he turns to General Burbeck for financial aid. Receiving no encouragement from him, Relyea persuades the General that for $10,000 he will make him a young man—and winning Sylvia's hand will be less difficult.

Writing his check for the $10,000 the General spills his "youth." His Spanish daughter-in-law leaves her baby in the Relyea's home and Burbeck rushes after her. In his absence, Phil and the Professor come and find the baby, who, they think, is General Burbeck. Proud as he is of his "marvelous discovery" he is somewhat baffled as to what to do with the general until "he grows up."

He tells his story to the city Judge who accuses him of kidnapping and Phil of murder. Sylvia's rapidity in coming to evident conclusions makes her think that her father and her fiance have stolen the baby. Consequently she accepts the general's proposal of marriage.

Phil and the doctor find on the sofa another baby wrapped in Sylvia's kimona and thinking it is she they declare that "the whole world is growing young"!

Mrs. Vivvert's and Marcella's babies disappear; the neighbors place the theft on Doctor Relyea and Phil, both of whom Sheriff Johnson threatens to put in jail. The Relyea home is in uproarious confusion until the sheriff finds and returns the babies to their mothers, relieving Phil of further responsibility, and Sylvia changes her mind about him.

A TRUTHFUL TONGUE

Of all the times that I have tolled,
I have never tolled a lie."

WHEN I AM DEAD

When I am dead bury me deep
Put my Biology at my feet.
Put my Geometry at my head,
Tell Mr. Roose why I am dead.
Put my English at my side
Tell Miss Briggs I'm glad I died.
Put my History on my chest
Tell Mr. White I did my best.
Now Please, Please, don't sob or cry
I met my death at Nappanee High.

FOOD FOR THOUGHT AND DIGESTION

There are certain books that are not customarily eaten by the reader, but on the other hand, there are those that anyone would relish. For instance, you would find "The Cereals of America" delectable as nearly all of us like cereals and besides they are recommended as healthy food. (Serve with sugar and cream.) The "Bent Twig" is spicy. Choice of flavor: cinnamon or cloves. Since "We" have our "Youth" we needn't watch our diet for at "Seventeen" we can stand most anything. Suppose that we were "Ninety-Three" then perhaps, "The Brimming Cup" of "Milk and It's Products" would be best, that is, if you don't swallow the "Gold Bug" in the process and have to do the "Oliver Twist" to get over the effects. Another substantial meal might be made of "Food Products" (sounds like hash) and "Mushrooms" are enjoyed. I might suggest that you be sure not to get "Toad Stools" by U. Will Dyee. Only a cannibal would think of devouring the "Human Body," the rest of us have hopes of Antin's "Promised Land," and only pigs and lower animals eat such things as "Soil"; so let me warn you again that if you decide to nibble upon a book, chew it the customary sixty-two times to insure its digestibility, then, I assure you, you will feel "Les Miserables".

—Wanda Gene Minard.

ON RIDING A BICYCLE

To be able to ride one of those two-wheeled curved pipes with pedals, had long been my one cherished ambition. Just recently I found myself possessor of a sufficient amount of intestinal fortitude to slide my leg over the funny seat and allow myself to be shoved free of the porch steps. My nerve held me up on one side and the principle of gravitation pulled me on the other. I tried to exercise all of the patent-pending instructions that had been issued me, only to discover that I couldn't balance, guide, pedal, and keep my dress out of the rear wheel at the same time—and as a result my patient friends had to unwind themselves from their side and mouth performance to in turn, unwrap me from around the wheel. As soon as they had accomplished this, my friends again doubled into obstreperous laughter as my pedal extremities came into contact with the front spokes when I tried to turn the handles far enough to enable me to turn a corner.

It seemed to me that suddenly, "President Hoover's Proclamation for Preservation of Natural Resources" was realized. Forests appeared everywhere—before me, beside me and behind me. The underbrush of the phantom wilderness poked at me and the tree trunks blocked my way. Somehow I couldn't steer clear of any of them, and so I resigned myself to an ungraceful trip over the bar for a forced landing. Of course as soon as I found both of my feet on the ground again, the usual four trees in our yard looked very easy to steer between. Riding a bicycle looks much easier when you are not on it.

I didn't learn to ride but I will as soon as bicycles are run by horse power instead of will power.

DAY DREAMING

Day dreaming. Who hasn't tried it? I sat in my comfortable seat in the assembly one beautiful day reading my history lesson. When I had read about a paragraph a pleasant thought flashed across, in what seemed the back part of my brain, and I soon found myself staring out of the window, and all my energy was devoted to the dream.

Reading my history and staring into space alternately (my history lesson ran through my mind without much effect.)

The bell rang and in a doze I passed to my history class.

When I came to, Miss Shively was speaking, "Take pencil and paper and write the names of all the persons in to-day's lesson.

My mind was blank.

"O! me!" I sighed, "I can't remember any name that could be connected with a history. Napoleon's name appears in many lessons. I'll take a guess." But as luck would have it, I missed my guess.

The remainder of my paper was blank, but was neatly decorated with a zero when it was returned.

Now, take a hint all you day dreamers, from one who knows. Reserve your day dreams for vacation and use your study periods for study only.

MARY PIPPEN

CHEER LEADER

Pep is most essential if the spirits of the team are to be kept in good shape.

The student body exercised excellent choice in choosing Mary to lead them this year. Believe us, she is a "Pippen."

"Pep 'em" isn't very far from "Pippen."—Perhaps this accounts for her never failing loyalty. When the rooters became discouraged Mary, did a great deal of the rooting herself.

History of Athletics

DUE to its splendid physical education program, Nappanee has for the past seven years produced some very successful basketball teams. For the past three years, working in connection with the Indiana State Health program Nappanee has organized physical education classes. This helps to bring to light talent, which otherwise might not be found.

In physical education the mind as well as the muscles are developed. Participation in athletics helps to develop not only quick thinking and a sense of cooperation but also ability to follow instructions.

Nappanee is the smallest school in the Big Ten but this has not hindered it from forging ahead and making a name for itself.

Previously, not much thought has been given to girls athletics. The Student Council started working last year on an equitable point system by which girls could win N. H. S. monograms for intramural athletics participation. The Student Council of this year in connection with physical education supervisions, completed the arrangements for such a system and thus afforded a new interest in feminine athletic competition.

The following is a system for point basis of awards:

Events	Winner	Loser	Total pts. possible
1. Basketball	8 pts.	5 pts.	32 points
2. Baseball	5 pts.	3 pts.	20 points
3. Volley Ball	5 pts.	3 pts.	20 points
4. Tennis	8 pts.	5 pts.	32 points
5. Hiking	5 pts.	0 pts.	20 points
6. Track

a) Running broad jump
b) Standing broad jump
c) Low hurdles
d) 75 yd. dash
e) 50 yd. dash
f) Baseball throw
g) Relay—400 yds. (8 girls)
h) High jump

Winner 2 points, each event. Loser, 1 point, each event.

For the past few years much interest has been shown in a noon basketball league. The faculty has been considerate and willing to help students develop athletic ability, and have proved this by arranging a schedule that would not interfere with other outside activities.

Although not so prominent as basketball and baseball, mention should be made of volley ball, track, and tennis. However, students seem to be taking more interest in these minor athletics than in former years.

Any school is to be congratulated if they have high standards of sportsmanship. We feel that both the team and rooters should have this praise accorded them.

SECTIONAL TOURNAMENT GAMES

NAPPANEE AND ELKHART: The Naps started out in their usual style by running up the score to 5 and 0 before Elkhart had much chance at the ball. However, as the game progressed the effects of the game with Goshen began to tell on the Bulldogs. The Blue Blazers seemed to have Lady luck on their side during the greater share of the game. As the gun sounded Nappanee was trailing along 5 points behind Elkhart. This final game of the tournament proved to be one of the fastest and most exciting games that the Nappanee fans had a chance to witness during the entire season.

NAPPANEE AND GOSHEN: Playing a superior brand of ball the Blue and White defeated the Redskins by a good margin. During the first part of the game the Bulldogs ran up the score before the Redskins could get their bearing. The Goshen boys played excellent basketball but due to the speed and accuracy of the Bulldogs they were unable to make much headway. At the final gun the Bulldogs were 7 points in the lead. This 7 point lead was enough to satisfy the fan's revenge for the two former Nappanee-Goshen games.

NAPPANEE AND JIMTOWN: This was the first game on Saturday morning. The Bulldogs had no trouble in overcoming the Jimmies. As the game proved to be such a walk away for the Blue and White, Coach Schuler decided to save the big five for the game with Goshen and so ran in the subs. The subs continued to hold the lead over the Jimmies until the end of the game.

NAPPANEE AND MILLERSBURG: Nappanee and Millersburg played the opening game of this year's exciting sectional tournament. The game opened rather slow and not much scoring was done until the middle of the first half. Although the Bulldogs led throughout the game the Millersburg offense proved rather threatening at times.

First Team

CHARLES LEHMAN

"Chas" did not see much action during the first half of the season due to an operation. However, he came back at the New Year and helped the team by his persistent effort. Charley should come back stronger than ever next year.

LEE ANDERSON

"Jim" played sub back guard and handled the position very well. His fine work this year will put him on the squad for next year's winning team.

WAYNE DUNHAM

"Ira" the captain of the '30-'31 quintet led his team through a partially successful season. As backguard he did some very effective playing. Ira graduates, leaving a vacancy to be filled.

DEAN PRICE

Dean was our sub forward. Although he did not see much action he was a loyal hard working member of the team. Dean is another player who graduates and thus he will not be on the team next season.

HENRY BAUMGARTNER

"Hank" played center and forward. Due to his ability to hit the basket from all angles he was a much feared player. Hank will be lost due to graduation.

WILFRED TROUP

"Willie" should receive much credit for the success of our team due to his jumping and scoring abilities. Willie has two more years at N. H. S. and will be a candidate for center next year.

LOWELL MULLETT

"Bud" held down the position of floorguard very successfully. Bud always got his man and his dribbling was the envy of the opposing team. He has one more year on the team.

FREDERICK LOPP

"Freddie" is the smallest man on the team, but he manages to keep up his end of the playing by his speed and foot work. As he is only a Sophomore great work is expected of him during the next two years.

EARL GRAHAM

"Donnie" served the squad in the capacity of general utility man, having had the distinction of playing every position upon the team, at times when his services were most needed. He is a junior and should be a valuable asset to the team next year.

ROBERT BLOSSER

"Bob", although small in stature, usually gave a good account of himself whenever called into action. Bob is a junior and should prove helpful to the team next year.

Middle Row—Coach Schuler, Glenn Fields, Gerald Phillips, Merle Calbeck, Mr. Abell.

Second Team

The Pups have retained the same honors that former seconds have gained by losing only two out of sixteen games played. The greater share of the boys are only underclassmen and will see action on the team again next year.

The Pups journeyed with Bulldogs to meet the opposing teams of other cities except Michigan City, and when their part of the entertaining was over afforded an enthusiastic yelling squad for the first team.

Believe It Or Not

THE basketball team of 1931 is to be congratulated upon its many accomplishments. Beginning the season with practically an inexperienced squad, the "Naps" again developed into one of the leading teams of northern Indiana, which seems to be more or less a tradition at Nappanee high school.

Believe it or not, but there are seven good reasons why the Bulldogs of 1930-1931 deserve to rank among the leading teams of the north.

First of all the team played a difficult schedule and advanced to the finals of the sectional tournament in the "tough" upper bracket. When the smoke has cleared it was discovered that Nappanee had played a total of twenty-three games and had won fourteen and lost nine. This record will compare favorably with that of most of the larger schools.

Second, the team tied for third place in the N. I. H. S. C. Standing, a place we have occupied for the past two years, but with a veteran team.

Third, we lost to Culver by the small margin of two points, 10 to 12 to be exact. Culver had an experienced team and went undefeated during its regular schedule, won the Rochester sectional and was eliminated in the Regional by South Bend a team previously beaten by Nappanee.

Fourth, Nappanee handed Elkhart possibly its most overwhelming defeat of the year 31 to 13. Elkhart was the team that beat Nappanee in the final game of the sectional mostly through the fortunes of a lucky weak bracket draw, and then advanced to the second round of the State finals at Indianapolis only to be eliminated by Greencastle runners up in the Championship race.

Fifth, Nappanee was one of the two teams that defeated Central of South Bend during the seasonal play. South Bend made a remarkable record by finishing second in the N. I. H. S. C., winning the strong Mishawaka sectional and losing to Elkhart in the Regional by one point. Nappanee beat South Bend 16 to 7 clearly demonstrating superiority over the Bears in all departments of the game. Fans who saw this game will verify the above statement.

Sixth, Laporte 10—Nappanee 8. As you all know Laporte turned out to be the eastern division champions and then won from East Chicago for the Championship of the entire N. I. H. S. C. Laporte was unquestionably Nappanee's most difficult opponent, and if rumors are true Laporte harbors the same feeling about Nappanee.

Seventh, the year would not be complete without turning in a win over our traditional rival Goshen. After taking a setback twice during the season from Goshen the Naps turned on the Redskins in the semi-finals of the Sectional Tournament at Elkhart and demonstrated to the tune of 22 to 15 that Nappanee still had a basketball team. We are proud to say that this victory was not a "Fluke" but won upon merits of superior team work and marksmanship.

Girls' Athletics

WHAT can we do to earn letters or insignia with which to deck our sweaters and blouses? This has been the urgent cry of the girls of Nappanee High School for several years. It has been a real problem, for considering the fact that boys' athletics demand much of the boys' time and energy for the sake of the school, while there seemed to be no school duty in athletics for the girls to fulfill, it seemed scarcely fair that the girls should be given insignia by the school and thus be shown equal prestige with the boys who had earned theirs through long hours of labor for the school. And yet the girls have resented feeling so useless; uppermost of all, however, has been the desire to wear their school's insignia.

This year we have made some attempts to solve the problem. The girls have still not been asked to work for the glory of Nappanee High School, but they have worked out a plan of physical activity between teams of the school which enables them to receive a monogram on the basis of how hard they have worked in this intra mural activity.

There have been two purposes in these attempts to work out this plan. First, we have felt the need of physical activity and participation in team games for the girls of our school. This plan enables all the girls who feel able to take part and thus receive the benefits of activity. Heretofore only the girls of the physical education classes had an opportunity to receive any exercise and enjoy the fun that goes with it. The second purpose was to enable the girls to receive the cherished monogram. What is the attraction of a monogram? We do not know, but we do know that girls love ornaments and that any decoration for which they have worked means much more to them than the ordinary ornaments which they use.

Miss Heestand, Miss Heckaman, Mr. Goodrich, and Mr. Schuler worked out the following scheme for girls' athletic participation and for the earning of monograms. The plan was approved by Mr. Abell and so far has not been changed.

All girls participating, except the Senior girls of 1931, are to receive a monogram after winning 150 points. Because of the lack of time the Senior girls of 1931 are to receive a monogram after winning 100 points.

Six major activities form the program and anyone working for the monogram is obliged to take part in four of the six branches. These activities are: basketball, volley ball, indoor baseball, tennis, track and hiking. The points of each have been so distributed as the aforementioned committee deemed each to be valuable. A girl must work at least two years on this program before she can secure her monogram. It has been planned that as much of the work as possible be done out-of-doors, while most of it is to be done at the noon intermission.

At the time of the writing of this article, the program has proved successful to a satisfying degree. There have been some rough points, but those can be smoothed in another year's work.

We have discovered that the activity has given the girls lessons in good sportsmanship, organization, leadership, and responsibility, as well as vigorous exercise.

Next year we hope to start the program earlier, thus being able to do more work out-of-doors and also avoiding rushing the various activities. We also hope to extend the program. As our athletic field becomes developed we can add hockey and soccer to our schedule.

The awarding of the monograms will be done near the close of each semester. We hope that the Senior girls this year who have so loyally supported the program may receive their awards. Others who have been as faithful and deserving will be rewarded next year and can be the first girls of N. H. S. to show their desired decorations daily to the school.

N. H. S. Track 1931

COACH SCHULER issued first call for track candidates on April 1st, and about twenty boys reported for the initial practice.

Interest in track this year seems to be greater than in former years possibly due to the fact that our new athletic field has been completed which affords the boys better opportunities in training.

Realizing this increasing interest and the possibilities of our future track teams a heavy track program has been arranged for our track athletes.

The squad this year is inexperienced but in the making. Track teams are not developed in one season. It requires several years of faithful and persistent training. Thus far this season our team has not made any outstanding record upon the cinder path but the best we can hope for are the benefits that come from experience and training.

In the Laporte quadrangular meet held at Laporte, Saturday, April 25th, Nappanee finished in third place, which was our first engagement of the season. Such a record should at least be encouraging to the boys.

The squad includes such hopeful athletes as: Clyde Hershberger, Charles Lehman, Wilfred Troup, Frederick Lopp, LaMar Reed, Harold Bock, Earl Graham, Russell Jones, Lowell Hershberger, and Gerald Phillips.

AIR THRILLS

A few years ago an aeroplane was taking passengers over Nappanee. I was one. As soon as I got into the plane I began to think what might happen while I was in the air. I decided to get out but the plane had started. As we were going across the field I looked out of the plane and saw the fence at the end of the field coming nearer and nearer. I shut my eyes and waited for the crash but there wasn't any. The plane rose from the ground and we were in the air about a hundred feet when I opened my eyes.

We flew north over Wakarusa and then back over Nappanee. The buildings and cars looked like toys. The fields looked like city blocks and cows and horses looked like cats and dogs. When the plane started down to land I felt as if it had fallen out from under me.

Later a friend and I rode with the same pilot and he remembered me. I told him we wanted all the stunts he dared to do. When we were up in the air he flew around over town. He first banked the plane one way and then the other and then darted down and shot up again.

When we landed we found that we had forgotten to strap ourselves in.

MY OLD FORD

By Stahly Weldy

One Ford car with a piston ring
Two rear wheels, one front spring
Has no fenders, seat or plank
Burns a lot of gas, darned hard to crank
Carburetor broken half way through Engine missing, hits on two
Three years old, will be four in the spring
Has shock absorbers and everything
Radiator broken sure does leak
Differential dry, you can hear it squeak
Ten spokes missing, front all bent
Tires blown out, 'ain't worth a cent.
She's got alot of power she'll go like the deuce
Burns either gas or tobacco juice,
Windshield gone, top smashed in
But it's a real good Ford
For the shape it's in.

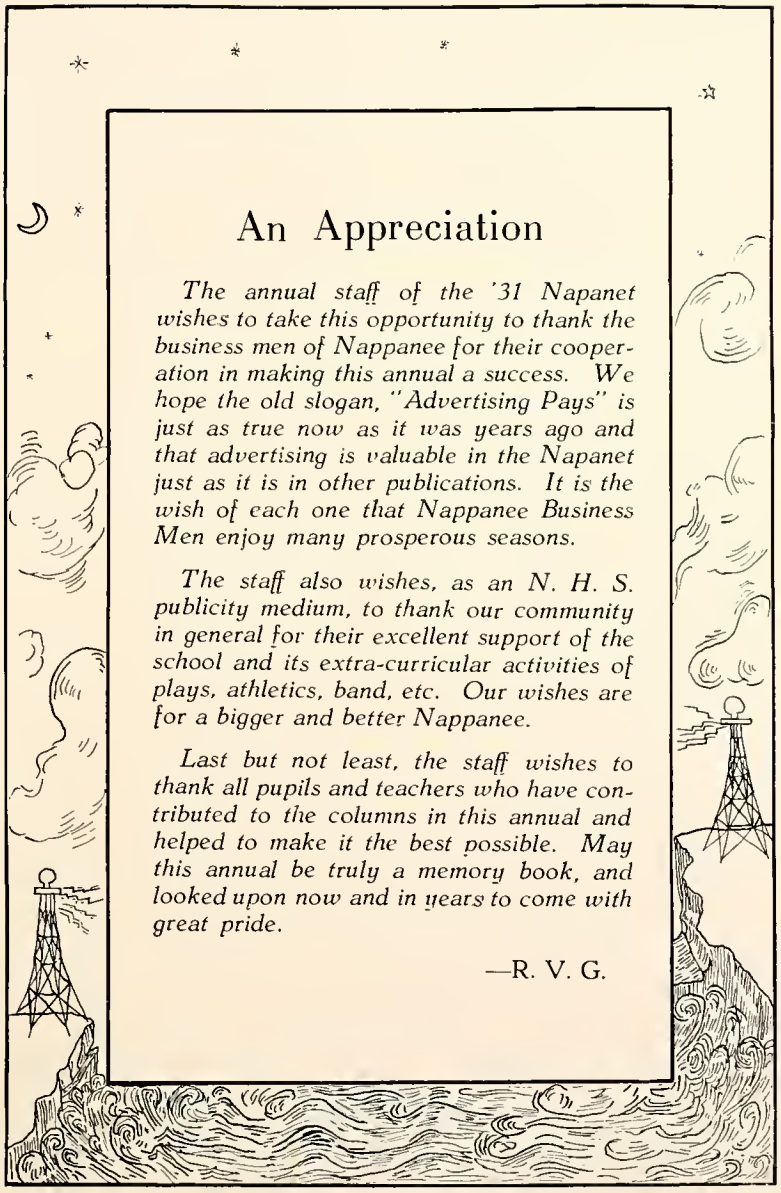
PRINTING MUST BE MORE THAN HONEST - - - -

IT MUST COMBINE honest workmanship and artistry. Good materials are the foundation of every good printing product, but they do not GUARANTEE . . . No rule of thumb or set custom will make it a quality product . . . It is the added THOUGHT that a good printer puts into his work that makes it worth the money of his customer.

IT HAS BEEN the policy of this company, since its organization in 1920, to combine the best materials and craftmanship in its every production. To this fact we attribute the confidence of a highly satisfied clientele. If you would have the best in printing and advertising products, try the "E. V."

E. V. PUBLISHING HOUSE

NAPPANEE, INDIANA



An Appreciation

The annual staff of the '31 Napanet wishes to take this opportunity to thank the business men of Nappanee for their cooperation in making this annual a success. We hope the old slogan, "Advertising Pays" is just as true now as it was years ago and that advertising is valuable in the Napanet just as it is in other publications. It is the wish of each one that Nappanee Business Men enjoy many prosperous seasons.

The staff also wishes, as an N. H. S. publicity medium, to thank our community in general for their excellent support of the school and its extra-curricular activities of plays, athletics, band, etc. Our wishes are for a bigger and better Nappanee.

Last but not least, the staff wishes to thank all pupils and teachers who have contributed to the columns in this annual and helped to make it the best possible. May this annual be truly a memory book, and looked upon now and in years to come with great pride.
